

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's review!

Learning Outcome

Understand detailed descriptions of real or imaginary events and experiences in present, past or future and in spoken or written texts.

Ask your partner:

- Do you think people should plan for the future? Explain.
- What is your prediction for the near future?

Can Do Statements

- I can discuss plans, hopes and expectations for the future.
- I can talk about what I will be doing or what I will have done.
- I can express what is and isn't necessary in the present and in the past.

Let's Explore!

Brent shares his vision!

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Dear Journal,

As far as I'm concerned this is the best time in my life!

I received my official transcript and Restaurant Management certificate and I aced each course! By this time next year, I will have found a restaurant location. I will have started designing it and I will have completed my business plan. Also, I will have found some serious investors. Until that time I relish each moment, each step towards the future. My life coaching and mindfulness practice gave me the awareness that presence is valuable! In the last meditation session, I wrote this:

I am peering into my future. I visualize myself as the warm rays of the rising sun over the horizon of my life. When I have reached a level of contentment in my career and personal life, I will have more to do. If I imagine opening up to all possibilities, I will become non-judgmental of myself and others. The future is coming in waves just like the present. The vision of myself in the future is what I see now: I will be holding my child near a deep green forest, and I will be tasting new recipes in the crystal blue kitchen of my own restaurant. I will be lying on the side of a grassy hill quietly reading with my partner. I know that as I get older I will have begun to reap the benefits of my hard work and I won't have forgotten about the truth within me. Before I can see further into the future, I will accept mindfulness. As soon as I accept it, I will gain peace of mind.

This practice must be my priority. I have to remember to do it, but I must not force it. I mustn't stand in my own way. I must recognize self-doubt and let it be.

At any rate, I have to love, accept and nurture my soul.

Let's Practice!

Vanessa knows her vocabulary pretty well when it comes to what she wants to do and see in her future.

Instructions: Read the clues. Find the word in the word search below.

Clues

1. To look very carefully into something.
2. To form a picture of someone or something in your mind.
3. Satisfaction.
4. Be receptive to.
5. The state of not believing in your capabilities.

T	H	F	P	N	O	M	Q	A	A	S	W	G	V	U	T	R
T	C	L	G	H	J	D	X	A	O	A	E	Y	Z	G	I	I
F	M	M	B	T	E	P	L	Z	G	K	D	B	O	C	M	J
N	T	P	T	E	H	L	S	X	O	J	H	I	I	O	L	N
B	J	E	D	V	D	L	A	M	H	E	D	I	Y	P	E	S
P	U	E	N	I	N	O	J	N	Y	S	Q	T	G	E	P	R
G	K	R	M	S	R	C	I	T	J	E	C	I	U	N	B	U
H	E	I	E	U	E	Z	D	F	I	L	V	V	B	U	H	U
U	O	N	P	A	E	U	Q	T	U	F	R	S	W	P	T	T
L	O	T	R	L	V	P	I	Q	V	D	N	R	J	W	D	N
D	D	O	H	I	U	X	V	N	F	O	S	F	L	P	W	Y
I	L	W	W	Z	A	Y	Z	R	B	U	N	S	V	I	M	W
N	Q	P	X	E	G	M	A	N	I	B	R	O	M	U	U	U
C	I	G	J	H	V	W	R	A	D	T	Z	V	N	B	N	D
Z	U	I	X	F	W	P	G	Q	F	K	A	U	D	B	V	D
M	F	R	E	Z	Q	C	T	M	D	Y	P	H	K	Y	D	L
M	C	O	N	T	E	N	T	M	E	N	T	E	A	B	Y	O

Let's Practice!

Vanessa has written the following sentences in her diary.

Instructions: Match the beginning of the sentence in Column A to the end of the sentence in Column B. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

COLUMN A

1. When I have reached a level of contentment in my career and personal life,
2. If I imagine opening up to all possibilities,
3. Before I can see further into the future,
4. As soon as I accept it,
5. I visualize myself as the warm rays

COLUMN B

- a. I will accept mindfulness.
- b. I will become non-judgmental of myself and others.
- c. of the rising sun over the horizon of my life.
- d. I will have more to do.
- e. I will gain peace of mind.

Extension Activity

Stream of consciousness writing

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- With a computer or pen and paper, relax in a calm and quiet environment and allow yourself to visualize the future.
- Set your timer for three minutes.
- Begin writing about what you see in the future.
- Write as much as you can in three minutes without stopping.
- Read what you've written.
- Share your writing with a friend.
- Discuss the experience.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I write about my vision for the future.

☐
☐

I read what I've written.

☐
☐

I discuss the experience of writing.

☐
☐

Target Words

- to peer into (verb): to look very carefully into something e.g. In particular, learning to meditate allowed me to peer into my soul.
- to visualize (verb): to form a picture of someone or something in your mind e.g. You will follow a meditation in which you visualize yourself and your body relaxing.
- contentment (noun): satisfaction
e.g. If you can commit to being here for five sessions, you will reach a level of contentment
- to open up (verb): to expand or to receive new ideas e.g. I feel ready to change a few things and just open up to new possibilities.
- to reap the benefits (expression): what you gain after your hard labor put in e.g. I hope you all reap the benefits of your experiences here.
- a piece of one's mind (expression): to tell someone honestly what one thinks, especially when angry e.g. They are giving others a piece of their mind.
- to stand in one's own way (verb): to make things hard for yourself e.g. You are only standing in your own way, Peter.
- self-doubt (noun): the state of not believing in your capabilities e.g. In our fifties we'll have had many conversations about our days of youth and a few chuckles about our self-doubt.

Learning Points

Future Continuous and Future Perfect Tense: Review

You use the Future Continuous to talk about something that will be in progress in the future. You use the Future Perfect to talk about something that will be finished by a particular time in the future.

For example:

I will be working at 4 p.m. tomorrow.

The person will start work at some point in the future and be working at 4 p.m. It is not clear when the person will stop working.

There are two other ways to use the Future Continuous tense:

- You can use the Future Continuous to show a long action will be interrupted by a shorter action in the future .

Structure:

will + be + present participle of the verb

Example:

I will be holding my child near a deep green forest, when someone appears in front of me.

- You use the Future Continuous to express the idea that two actions will be happening simultaneously for the same amount of time. You can use two Future Continuous actions in one sentence.

Structure:

am/is/are + going to be + present participle

Example:

I am going to be lying on the side of a grassy hill and my husband is going to be looking after the kids.

The Future Perfect tense is similar to the Present Perfect tense, but instead of your viewpoint being in the present, it is in the future.

The Future Perfect is also used to express certainty of a future event being completed or to convey a strong opinion about a future event.

You can use expressions like I'm sure ... or I really think ... to express certainty with the Future Perfect.

The Future Perfect has two forms:

will have + past participle, or

Learning Points

am/is/are + going to have + past participle

Example:

*By this time next year, I'll have found the perfect restaurant location.
I'm sure I'll have found some serious investors.*

Examples:

- I will have found a restaurant location.
- I will have started designing it and I will have completed my business plan.
- Also, I will have found some serious investors.

Expressing Necessity: Review

You use the modals must and have (got) to to express necessity in the present and in the past

You use the negative forms of the modals need to and have to to express absence of necessity in the present.

Must refers to a necessary condition that comes from the subject and may be directed at the subject or the person the subject is talking to or about. It is used to show a strong necessity.

Example:

I must recognize self-doubt and let it be.

Have (got) to expresses obligation that comes from outside, such as rules and regulations over which the subject has no control. It is used to express necessity in a lower degree than with must.

Example:

I have to accept love and nurture my soul.

Absence of necessity is expressed often by using the negative form of have to. You use mustn't less often than have to.

Example:

I don't have to worry so much all the time.

You can only express necessity in the past with the modal have to.

Structure:

subject + had to + infinitive

Learning Points

Example:

I had to make some pretty big changes in my life recently

To show the absence of necessity in the past, you use the structure:

subject+didn't + have/need + infinitive

Example:

Luckily, I didn't have to renew my Restaurant Management certificate!

Absence of necessity can also be expressed by negative form of need.

Examples:

- This practice must be my priority.
- I have to remember to do it, but I must not force it.
- I mustn't stand in my own way.

