

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Pronunciation Spot: Let's meditate!

Learning Outcome

Understand detailed descriptions of real or imaginary events and experiences in present, past or future and in spoken or written texts.

Ask your partner:

- What do you think of the practice of meditation? Would you try it or recommend it?
- What other things can you do to feel more relaxed?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about education and character traits.
- I can say words with same sounds that mean different things.
- I can say and use words like recognize and visualize.

Let's Explore!

Vanessa learns about mindfulness.

* Sati and smṛti, a Buddhist term meaning "mindfulness", was popularized by Jon Kabat-Zinn in the West.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Amy: Welcome to our mindfulness session. Instead of giving others a piece of your mind because of something they have done to negatively affect you, we are going to gain peace of mind through mindfulness meditation. We are going to stop spending our days in a daze and learn to be present. Everyone's presence is like many presents or gifts to our fellow friends. We don't need to compromise anything with mindfulness.

How many of you wake up on a sunny morning to the sun's rays and realize the beauty and calm of that moment? Raise your hands when you feel a sense of joy. Yes, I see a few of you. The effects of mindfulness affect your physiology so that you can have more beautiful moments like these.

Our session today will be one hour of meditation. To make this practice part of your daily routine you don't have to memorize anything. You will follow a meditation in which you visualize yourself and your body relaxing. You will allow the stress to melt away and focus your attention on your breath at first. Then you will try to clear your mind of all thought. With daily practice, mindfulness meditation allows us to use more of our brain capacity and makes us more compassionate and forgiving individuals. To initialize this process we will all find a cushion and a spot on the floor. Sit in a cross-legged position and gently close your eyes.

Let's Practice!

Do you want to gain peace of mind?

Instructions: Organize the words to find the mystery sentence. Write the sentences correctly. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. Welcome / session / . / to / mindfulness / our /

2. mindfulness / gain / are / We / to / of / going / peace / mind / through / meditation / . /

3. need / We / . / with / anything / don't / to / compromise / mindfulness /

4. breath / attention / will / your / . / your / You / focus / on /

5. cross-legged / Sit / eyes / and / in / a / your / position / . / gently / close /

Let's Practice!

Here are some recommendations to start your day!

Instructions: Match the beginning of the sentence in Column A to the end of the sentence in Column B. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

COLUMN A

COLUMN B

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1. Instead of giving others a piece of your mind, | a. presents or gifts to our fellow friends. |
| 2. Everyone's presence is like many | b. one hour of meditation. |
| 3. Raise your hands when you feel a sense of joy | c. we are going to gain peace of mind. |
| 4. The effects of mindfulness | d. under the sun's rays. |
| 5. Our session today will be | e. affect your physiology. |

Extension Activity

Listen and practice guided meditation.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Discuss with a partner what the benefits of meditation are.
- Go online and find a guided meditation in English and try it.
- With a friend discuss your experience.
- Write a journal entry of 200 words to describe your thoughts on the experience.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I talk about meditation.

☐ ☐

I listen to a guided meditation.

☐ ☐

I discuss my experience.

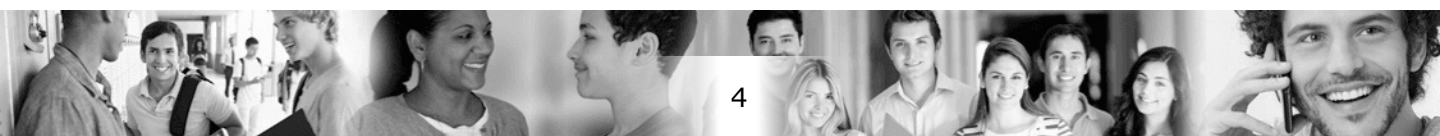

☐ ☐

I write 200 words about my experience.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- mindfulness (noun): the practice of being aware of your body, mind, and feelings in the present moment
e.g. Welcome to our mindfulness session.
- a piece of one's mind (expression): to tell someone frankly what one thinks about something, especially when angry e.g. They are giving others a piece of their mind.
- daze (noun): unable to think clearly
e.g. We are going to stop spending our days in a daze.
- to compromise (verb): to accept that you will reduce your demands or change your opinion in order to reach an agreement with someone e.g. We don't need to compromise anything with mindfulness.
- effect (noun): the result of a particular influence
e.g. The effects of mindfulness affect your physiology.
- to affect (verb): to have an influence on someone or something, or to cause a change in someone or something
e.g. The effects of mindfulness affect your physiology.
- to visualize (verb): to form a picture of someone or something in your mind
e.g. You will follow a meditation in which you visualize yourself and your body relaxing.
- to melt away (expression): to make something disappear or go away
e.g. You will allow the stress to melt away.
- to initialize (verb): to start a project or process
e.g. To initialize this process we will all find a cushion and a spot on the floor.
- gently (adverb): without force or strength
e.g. Sit in a cross-legged position and gently close your eyes.

Learning Points

Homophones

When words sound the same but have a different meaning, they are called homophones.

A homophone is a word that has the same sound as another word but has a different meaning and may have a different spelling.

For example: right and write
right (noun) and right (adjective)

Read and pronounce the following homophones:

piece	peace
days	daze
presence	presents
rays	raise
effects	affects
our	hour

Examples:

- effects
- affects
- presence
- presents
- rays
- raise
- piece
- peace
- our
- hour

Learning Points

Stressing Two Syllables Back From the Suffix: -ize

When you say words that end with the suffix -ize, you stress the third syllable from the end of the word, or two syllables before the -ize suffix.

Read these words out loud. Concentrate on the pronunciation. Put the stress two syllables before the -ize suffix.

realize

memorize

visualize

initialize

compromise

Examples:

- We don't need to compromise anything with mindfulness.
- Realize the beauty and calm of that moment.
- To make this practice part of your daily routine you don't have to memorize anything.
- You will follow a meditation in which you visualize yourself and your body relaxing.
- To initialize this process we will all find a cushion and a spot on the floor.

